

Great Skin Starts with Great Ingredients

Take the Ingredient IQ Test

You only get one precious face per lifetime. Are you sure that the products you are using are the best?

L'Bri Pure n' Natural products have combined all the benefits of Aloe Vera with the finest quality ingredients to provide you with skin care products that are second to none.

From head to toe, our skin care formulations have you covered with pure, stabilized cold processed Aloe Vera Barbadensis Miller as the FIRST ingredient.

To ensure the quality of every skin care product manufactured, L'Bri inspects all raw ingredients before they are mixed, tests the product during manufacturing, and performs a final analysis before any product is sent to the customer. L'Bri's Quality Assurance team keeps track of every detail, from careful testing and evaluation of raw materials, to meticulous product shipping and storage.

To determine if the products you are currently using are safe and superior take this quick Ingredient IQ test.

IQ Test

Is water the first ingredient in the product you are using?

Does the product you are using contain artificial coloring such as FD&C Blue, Yellow 5 D&C Red No. 33, FD&C Yellow?

Do your products contain any of these potentially harmful ingredients? Propylene Glycol, Butylene Glycol, Sodium Laurel Sulfate, Phenoxyethanol.

Do you see pore clogging waxes such as Beeswax, Candeilla Wax, Paraffin or Carnauba Wax listed among the ingredients?

Do you see Fragrance listed on the label? Synthetic fragrance is artificially produced and can cause skin irritations in some people.

Does the product you are using contain petro chemicals such as mineral oil?

If you answered "yes" to any of these questions, it's time to discover:

L'Bri Pure n' Natural

What is most important when selecting a skin care product are the ingredients. It's not about fancy packaging which can only add to the unnecessary cost of the finished product, it's all about what's inside the bottle. We don't believe in wasting our customer's money on fancy, expensive bottles. Great skin starts with great ingredients.

As you will discover all of L'Bri products are moderately priced. Don't over pay for products that contain water as the first ingredient and use many of the harmful, skin suicide ingredients which are listed above.